SPECIAL ELECTION EDITION

ELECTION RESULTS

On November 4, 2014, Pennsylvania voters elected a Democratic Governor and gave the Republicans stronger majorities in both the State House and the State Senate. The State Senate, which had been comprised of 27 Republicans to 23 Democrats, will now include 30 Republicans to 20 Democrats. State House Republicans won eight more seats in the state House of Representatives, for a 119-84 majority. That's the largest majority for Republicans in the House in memory, and the largest of any party since Democrats had 126 seats during the 1957-58 session, according to Capitolwire.com. Pennsylvania's delegation for the 114th Congress representing us in the House in Washington will continue to include 13 Republicans and 5 Democrats. Overall, the U.S. Senate will switch from a Democratic majority to a Republican majority. There will be 53 Republicans, 44 Democrats, 2 Independents and one undecided race in Louisiana that will have a run-off in December. The U.S House will remain a Republican majority of 244 to 186 Democrats, with 5 races not yet called.

The split in power between Democratic executives and Republican legislatures is likely to make it harder to get things done in both Harrisburg and Washington.

For details about each race, go to one of the resources below.

Governor

Republican Governor Tom Corbett ran for re-election for another four -year term and was defeated by Democrat Tom Wolf. Governor-elect Wolf's victory marks the first time in 44 years since the state allowed governors to serve two consecutive terms that a sitting governor has not been re-elected. Governor-elect Wolf defeated Governor Corbett 54.8 percent to 45.2 percent, in an election that saw a little more than 3.4 million votes cast. In the previous mid-term election in 2010, nearly 4 million votes were cast.

Governor-elect Wolf and Lt. Governor-elect Michael J. Stack, III will be inaugurated on January 20, 2015. Governor-elect Wolf has established a website where people can get news about the transition to the new governor. It's at www.wolftransitionpa.com/. The site also can be used to submit resumes for jobs in the new administration. Governor-elect Wolf has announced that his Chief of Staff will be Katie McGinty, former Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection. His Transition Team will be led by: John A. Fry, President of Drexel University, as Transition Chair; three Vice-Chairs—York Mayor Kim Bracey, Community Leader Cindy Shapira, and Jim Brown, Senator Robert Casey, Jr.'s Chief of Staff. Denise Smyler will serve as legal counsel to the steering committee; Mary Soderberg, former Secretary of the Budget as Chair of the Budget Deficit and Fiscal Stabilization Task Force and Josh Shapiro, Chairman of the Montgomery County Commission, as Vice Chair.

Pennsylvania General Assembly

In the Pennsylvania General Assembly, the Republican majority increased in both the House and Senate. This increased margin is still shy of the two-thirds needed to override a veto. The members of the General Assembly will be sworn-in on January 6, 2015 and hold session to elect the House Speaker and Senate President Pro Tempore. Representative Brendan Boyle, D-Philadelphia, won his race for the U.S. House of Representatives, so a special election will be held in the 170th District to replace him.

Leadership

On November 12, the four caucuses—House Republicans and Democrats and Senate Republicans and Democrats—elected their leadership for the new 2015-16 legislative session. They are:

House Republicans:

Speaker of the House Designee: Mike Turzai (R-Allegheny)

Leader: Dave Reed (R-Allegheny)

Whip: Bryan Cutler (R-Lancaster)

Appropriations Chairman: William Adolph (R-Delaware)

Secretary: Donna Oberlander (R-Clarion)

Policy Committee Chairman: Kerry Benninghoff (R-Centre)

Administrator: Brian Ellis (R-Butler)

House Democrats:

Appropriations Chairman: Joe Markosek (D-Allegheny)

Caucus Chairman: Dan Frankel (D-Allegheny)

Secretary: Rosita Youngblood (D-Philadelphia)

Policy Committee Chairman: Mike Sturla (D-Lancaster)

Administrator: Neal Goodman (D-Schuylkill)

Senate Republicans:

President Pro Tempore Designee: Joe Scarnati (R-Jefferson)

Leader: Jake Corman (R-Centre)

Whip: John Gordner (R-Columbia)

Appropriations Chairman: Pat Browne (R-Lehigh)

Caucus Chairman: Bob Mench (R-Montgomery)

Secretary: Rich Alloway (R-Franklin)

Policy Committee Chairman: Dave Argall (R-Susquehanna)

Senate Democrats:

Caucus Chairman: Wayne Fontana (D-Allegheny)

Secretary: Larry Farnese (D-Philadelphia)

Policy Committee Chairman: Lisa Boscola (D-Northampton)

Administrator: John Yudichak (D-Luzerne)

In one of the more closely watched challenges, Senator Jake Corman (R) unseated Senator Dominic Pileggi (R-Delaware) as Majority Leader of the Senate. Senator Pileggi had held that position for eight years. This change has been interpreted by many in the media as a conservative move. The Speaker of the House and the President Pro Tem of the Senate are officially elected by all the members of each chamber when the new session begins in January. Committee assignments have not yet been announced as we go to press.
